In a chicken coop
in the village of Flickens, lived some very unusual chickens.

Although the chicken
is a well known sight,
these chickens were
pure delight!

The world has never seen such a peculiar creatures which, instead of feathers
...wore the

shiniest glitters!

Every morning
with the first light,
you could see among the grass their little heads shining bright.

As they took their walks
from morning till noon, they looked like a characters from a cartoon.

Since their glowing feathers were hard to miss,
the nearby barns
quickly heard about this.

Animals from near and far quickly packed their bags and ran to see glittery chicks and their shiny eggs.

Geese were first to come they laughed and said "Well, well" when they saw those eggs with bright and shimmering shells.

HA- HA- HA- HAA- HAAA

Mister Mouse was full of dread the sparkling glitter struck his head.
His eyes went blind of all this light for that one minute

he lost his sight?

A blind mouse!
A blind mouse!
